United Presbyterian Church

Date

late 19th Century

Medium

Photographic print on board

Description

Mounted photograph of the original United Presbyterian Church at the corner of 4th and Mortimer streets in Santa Ana. This building, constructed in 1876, was the first of three locations for United Presbyterian, now called Trinity United Presbyterian Church. A second location was opened at the northwest corner of 6th and Bush Streets in 1906, and the church moved to its current location on Prospect Avenue in Santa Ana in 1958. The Mortimer Street location no longer stands, although it is uncertain when it was torn down. The Bush Street location was left vacant from 1962 until 2020, when it was burned down as a result of arson.
