Description

This pamphlet was most likely published by the Redlands Chamber of Commerce. It provides a snapshot of life in Redlands around the year 1913. It was published by the longest running printing company in California, Citrograph Press. Citrograph Press first opened in 1887 as the printer of the city's first newspaper. In 1913, the company switched its focus and became a general printing company, specializing in pamphlets like this one and various other printing needs. It may have been made available to guests at the Panama-California Exposition of 1915 in San Diego.
