mid to late 20th Century

Primary Maker

Miao

Medium

Cotton, silk and sequins

Description

The textiles of the Miao in Southwest China are appreciated for their exuberant, decorative qualities. This jacket's curved opening is a possible suggestion of Manchu influence on Miao style. Although this jacket possesses some adornment with its embroidery and sequins, it is much less elaborate than other examples of Miao clothing possibly indicating that this jacket is likely an item for everyday wear rather than for festival wear.
