Basic Detail Report

Paddle Finial

Date

20th Century

Primary Maker

Bosman

Medium

Wood

Description

Canoe paddles with decorated anthropomorphic finial elements were used to navigate bodies of water surrounding the Sepik River. This specific example is almost certainly from the Ramu River Delta where figures with this distinctive hooked nose and tall conical section on top are seen. Here figures also existed as independent charms. Despite having certain animal characteristics, these finial elements tended to represent people, most often mythological ancestors.

Dimensions

 $6.5/8 \times 1.3/8 \times 1.3/8$ in. (16.8 × 3.5 × 3.5 cm) In stand: $7.3/4 \times 1.1/2 \times 1.1/2$ in. (19.7 × 3.8 × 3.8 cm)